
LICENCING AND LIMITATIONS

'The Report': 'Pharmacological Strategies in Autism Spectrum Disorders: Present and Future Opportunities. Expert Report Part 1; Parts 1 and 2' published by NeuroKnowledge Limited

'Associated materials' [includes slide presentations, written material, and updates] that NeuroKnowledge Limited shall make available from time to time

Copyright for the material content of the Report and associated materials, solely resides with NeuroKnowledge Limited. NeuroKnowledge Limited shall grant a licence to the purchaser ('the Licensee') to use the Report and associated materials in accordance with these Terms and Conditions and with the type of License and Product purchased.

Type of User Licences

The Report and associated materials shall not, in any manner or by any means, either whole or in part, be copied, reproduced, distributed, or sub-contracted (including distribution to any sister or affiliated organisations) unless written permission is given under License (see below).

Two types of license are available from NeuroKnowledge Limited: (i) a non-exclusive license or (ii) a 6 month exclusive licence (solely available to the first time purchaser).

Single user licence: for installation of the Report and associated materials on a single PC. Depending on the specific circumstances, small or virtual companies wishing to install the product on multiple PCs may purchase multiple 'single user' licences for a discounted fee.

Single site licence: for use on a single site within the same company or institution where multiple copies can be made available 'on-site' to its staff, employees and contractors. 'On-site' refers to the company premises.

Multiple site licence: multiple users, across multiple sites within the same company or institution whatever the location.

When the Report is purchased by trade associations and umbrella organisations or societies then its use shall be confined solely to use by the secretariat.

Please contact NeuroKnowledge Limited if you wish to informally discuss user requirements without obligation.

Scope and Limitations of the Licence

The Report and associated materials as a whole or in part shall not be displayed on any website including the purchaser's internal website, without prior written consent from NeuroKnowledge Limited

The Report and associated materials as a whole or in part, shall not be copied, given, sold or distributed by any means to any third party. The Licensee shall make reasonable efforts to comply with Licensing and copyright requirements to ensure that the Report and associated materials are not accessible to third parties by avoiding, for example, the materials being filed on a PC or server used by third parties. The Licensee when copying or distributing the Report and associated materials as allowed under the type of license purchased should make every effort to safeguard the licensed material, namely by making sure that any licensed electronic copies are held securely and are password protected and that any paper copies are either held securely or otherwise destroyed.

According to the legal framework around copyright law as permitted under Section 47 of the Copyright Designs and Patents Act 1988, it is permissible to quote selectively from the Report and associated materials, however, the Licensee is responsible for complying with any applicable data protection, copyright and pertinent legislation and regulations. When requiring more lengthy quotes from the Report and associated materials, written permission must be obtained from NeuroKnowledge Limited prior to use of the quotation.

If the data or information provided in the Report and associated materials or as part of the Q&A session or on-going advice, are used as part of an analysis, presentation, report or publication then Dr Jenny Longmore and NeuroKnowledge Limited shall be acknowledged as the source in the usual manner, however, NeuroKnowledge Limited accepts no responsibility for any actions arising therefrom.

Limitations

The Licensee shall indemnify and hold harmless NeuroKnowledge Limited against any and all claims, losses (including loss of profits or loss of anticipated savings), damages, proceedings, settlements, costs or expenses howsoever arising, directly or indirectly, as a result of the use of, or inability to use the Report and associated materials (including under Tier 2 and Tier 3 Products, the Q&A session and on-going advice) and any actions arising therefrom.

NeuroKnowledge Limited's liability in contract, tort or otherwise arising shall be limited to the fee paid for the Product.

Proceedings

In the event of the Licensee uncovering an actual or suspected infringement of the Licensed Right (or claims that the contents of the Report or associated material infringes the rights of third parties), then the Licensee should inform NeuroKnowledge Limited immediately.

Force Majeure

Neither the Licensor nor the Licensee shall be liable for any failure or delay in performing their obligations where such failure or delay results from any cause that is beyond the reasonable control of that Party.

Governing Law

This agreement shall be governed by English law and both parties submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English Courts for the resolution of any dispute which may arise out of or in connection with this agreement.